It is a warm subject today—gas-heating stores. We knew of but one way to account for the extraordinary increase of our business in gas-heating stores the past couple of months, and that is that we must be offering tetter stores for the money than obtainable elsewhere. Every looker buys, or the few that go out quickly return. low will find here about every good style of gasheating store made. The stock begins with the "Little Wonder," for placing directly over the burner for heating both and hall rooms, at $1.50 un to the most imposing styles at $10 and $12. For the money the "Home Comfort" can heater at $2.75 is really without an equal. I do not believe it would be possible for the assessor to give that proper care and scrutiny to the liquor applications which the law contemplates without materially interfering with the other duties, and my suggestion is not made for the purpose of avoiding additional, labor. I also think that would be inappropriate for the party charged with the issuance of the license to be a member of said board, and for these reasons I suggest that you recommend an amendment to the bill substituting some other than the assessor on the proposed board."

present of a freshet in the Potomac. Nothing exhaling their penetrating perfume on the freezing air. ARRIVAL OF THE CABINET. Secretaries Charles Foster, Rusk, Noble and Postmaster General Wanamaker, representing President Harrison, arrived early and President - elect Cleveland came in on the train which reached here about 9 o'clock. The streets were all cleaned up by order of the mayor and the walking was good. The body lay in state last even-ing, but only privileged persons were admitted. This morning at 9 o'clock, however, the general public were admitted. First came the children of the public schools, marshaled by their teachers. Then came the Odd Fellows and other organ izations of which Gen. Hayes was a member, and these were followed by the veterans of the Loyal Legion and the Grand Army of the Republic. There was no crowding or con-fusion, and the military guard at the doors of the house and in the hall where the casket lay was merely formal. The people passed rapidly through, casting a giance at the peaceful face of the dead statesman and reverently continued out through a rear door. SERVICES AT THE MANSION, The wide rooms of the mansion were filled with a most distinguished company when the simple farewell services of the dead ex-President began at 2 o'clock. In the south parlor and the large bed chamber in the rear of it, long occupied by Gen. Hayes, were President-elect Cleveland and the members of President Harrison's cabinet, representatives of the

In the far north end of the room many were standing, the throng of distinguished men being too great to permit the scating of ail. In the front hall was grouped the double quartet which sung the hymns chosen by the family with tenderness and feeling.

The Rev. J. L. Albritton of the M. E. Church of Fremont, read the 23d Psalm after a hymn, and was followed in prayer by President Bashford, D. D., who some forty-five years ago united in marriage Lucy Webb and Rutherford Birchard Hayes in Chillicothe, Ohio. Another hymn, the Lord's Prayer repeated impressively, and the simple, solemn services at the house were over.

The body-bearers lifted the remains and bore them from the hushed mansion amid sobsand falling tears, and the long, sad procession wound out through the native forest of Spiegel Grove to Oakwood cemetery, where after the brief and simple ritual of the Grand Army of the Repub-lic was read, all that was mortal of Rutherford B. Hayes was committed to the tomb. THE PROCESSION. The order in which the funeral procession moved was as follows: Honorary pallbearers - Secretary Charles Foster, Gov. Wm. McKinley, Mr. J. L. M. Curry, ex-minister to Spain; Senator Calvin S. Brice, Maj. E. C. Dawes, Gen. Wager Swayne, Gen. M. F. Force and Mr. W. E. Haynes. Members of the family, ex-President Grover Cleveland, accompanied by Wm. "You can never put this department on a business-like basis until you bring the responsibility close home to the workers, and give the commissioner power to enforce discipline.

"It stands to reason that no Secretary of the Interior with all the many important questions coming before him every day can decide promptly and fairly the questions of discipline which constantly come up in a great bureau like the pension office.
